This was Burdine's first work. The carving was completed a number of years ago, but was kept by Burdine. Not too long ago it was purchased by Mr Brown's wife for the sum of $5,000.00, and is now a treasured possession in the Brown home. The artist has since done a number of pieces, all for his own pleasure. A great admirer of Mr Eisenhower, he carved the wood portrait of the great man, a tribute to a hero, never dreaming that one day it would hang in the White House of the United States, the prized personal possession of the President of the United States.

Runs Car Into Bayou In Fog

Herbert Williams, 17 year old colored youth of Webb St. took an early morning dip into Bayou Caddy Sunday, when he drove over the end of the road in the heavy fog.

Williams had just purchased his first car Saturday, a 1947 Chevrolet sedan, and had spent the entire day working on it. He worked until early Sunday morning, and decided to take the car out to charge the battery. Driving along the Beach front Williams said he was unfamiliar with the roadway, and before he realized it the car had dived into waters of the Bayou.

Williams told Sheriff's Deputy Latham Garriga, he managed to get out of the rear door of the car before it completly submerged, and escaped injury. Completing its graceful swandive, the Chevy settled comfortably on the bottom of the bayou completely covered by about five feet of water. It was pulled to the surface by Porter's Wrecking Service.

Williams' dip into the chilly waters occurred about 2:00 A. M when the fog was so dense penetration was practically nil. There is no guard rail nor seawall protecting the road ending at the Bayou.

Number of Seedlings Ordered Exceeds The Supply of This Year

State Forester C. B. Marlin announced today that the number of tree seedlings ordered far exceeds the supply this year and most of the orders must be reduced considerably.

The supply of seedlings is about equal with previous years but orders "ballooned" to more than double those received in the past.

Marlin said a total of 85 million seedlings were ordered and the supply in State nurseries stands at only 29½ million. Free seedling orders for 4,692 landowners will be filled 100 percent. There will also be 100 percent delivery on cash seedling orders for shortleaf pine and green ash. On other species, delivery of seedlings over the free allotment of 2,000 will be prorated on a sliding scale principle.

"The greatest demand is for slash and loblolly pine," Marlin said. He added that there will be a cut on these species varying from 55 to 60 percent on smaller cash orders for slash and loblolly respectively, to an 85 percent reduction on large orders for both species. There will be a moderate cut in longleaf pine orders.

"The Commission regrets very much that it is necessary to reduce the number of seedlings desired by those placing orders," Marlin said, "but he feels that under the existing circumstances the orders are being handled in a manner which will be fair to everyone concerned."

Lifting of seedlings began at both State nurseries on November 26 and seedling deliveries began on December 3. Announcements of delivery dates, accounts and names of recipients of seedlings will be made locally as lifting proceeds through the winter.

Now if a dog has bitten as many as 2 children he is condemned by his own conduct and can't be trusted. The owner doesn't realize how dangerous and painful fourteen rabies shots can be. Then too, if the [illegible] vaccine will do no good, the patient is doomed and there is nothing we can do about it if the dog had Negri bodies in his saliva. Some states have lost several children in the use of rabies vaccine. What a spot the doctor is on. The family is determined to have the patient take the vaccine. They don't realize this vaccine is the most dangerous of all vaccines used by the medical doctors. Often alarming syptoms will show up in a patient taking rabies vaccine and the doctor will have to stop giving it. Then the doctor is on the spot, he doesn't know whether the patient has had enough but if he keeps on giving it, he will kill the patient and he is dead by the use of vaccine. It could be a death whichever way you take it. That's why doctors are reluctant to use the vaccine unless absolutely necessary.

Now the rumor is abroad that dogs are being poisoned. Some people think it is by strychnine which as everyone knows is a deadly poison. The raw strychnine cannot be purchased in Bay St. Louis. Drug stores do not stock the drug in that form and they have not sold any because they had none to sell. They do carry strychnine but it is in a non-poisonous tablet.

Dogs can and do transmtt parasite infections to human beings. Their intestinal tracts are often loaded with several kinds of worms. Some infect the gut tract of the human and some of the soft muscles of man and they make you sick, don't forget that. If a dog has messed up your yard with foul dung, that yard is polluted and children playing there can become infected. If the larvae become encysted in muscle tissue, then you've got something the doctor can't cure. Mán has enouugh ills to cope with without reciprocating with dog diseases. Dogs suffer from many ills, many of them parasitic in character. In acute infections dogs do die and many of them die in convulsions especially from the parasitic diseases. If you want your dog to stay well keep him away from other dogs. They always exchange whatever infections they may have with other dogs.

Another thing we stand for which we shouldn't, and everyone in Bay St. Loius, even the children, have witnessed this, is that they don't conform to polite society and display bad manners. The dog belongs to the lower animal group and pays no attention to the rule of conduct. If you don't want the repugnant sight displayed before our child life in this town, then pass and enforce a strong dog law that will protect both the dogs and the people. The moral is, if you want a dog, keep him in your own yard and not in your neighbor's yard to scatter his parasites and kill the flowers, for no flower can stand the assault of deadly spraying from the dog. Dogs and flowers are simply incompatible.

Many lawns in Bay St. Louis are not fenced. This is as it should be. Several years ago Columbia took the prize for the most beautiful village in the State. They won this prize by removing yard fences and planting flowers. Every flower known in the botanical [illegible] tropical climate with a little encouragement but they simply can't compete with the dogs.

This is another reason for the passage and strict enforcement of the regulation restricting the habits of dogs.

Man cannot improve on nature. She makes no ugly objects nor is guilty of an ugly act, except for the betterment of the human race. Bay St. Louis could be made a veritable paradise of beauty with a little encouragement. We have a tropical climate and a fertile soil; plants blossom the year round. The only thing needed is protection and the helping hand of man.

You Can Now Get "Hell" On The Telephone

A rather startling news article appeared recently in "The New York Times", it read in part that "You Can Now Get "Hell" on the Telephone." The article went on to say however, that the place in question is a small isolated village in a sparsley settled area of the Union of South Africa. It seems telephones are being installed in the village and can be reached by long distance via the overseas operator. In the past the village's only contact with the outside world had been a rough donkey trail, but now, at last, you can get "Hell" on the telephone. (The editor wishes to point out that he's been getting "it" for years on just a local call.)

The Board then took up the the matter of providing for the issuance of Bonds for street improvement in the Town of Waveland and after discussing the matter, Alderman C. K. Herlihy offered and moved the adoption of the following resolution:

A RESOLUTION DECLARING THE INTENTION OF THE BOARD OF MAYOR AND ALDERMEN OF THE TOWN OF WAVELAND, MISSISSIPPI, TO ISSUE NEGOTIABLE BONDS OF SAID TOWN IN THE MAXIMUM AMOUNT OF TWENTY - TWO THOUSAND DOLLARS ($22,000) FOR THE PURPOSE OF IMPROVING AND PAVING STREETS IN SAID TOWN.

The trees are packed in moss and should be put in the ground as soon as you get them. WAVELAND WANDERINGS

by

GEORGETTE B. HALL

Several young people of Waveland and Bay St. Louis enjoyed themselves immensely last Friday evening at a combination "Going Away" party for Richard Noonan and a birthday party honoring the birthday of three close friends Otto Bourgeois, Richard Noonan and Miss Eleanor Bufkin. Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Noonan, of Waveland, was on a two weeks' vacation from his duty on the aircraft carrier, U. S. Hancock Richard has already reported for San Diego where he will assume his duties with the U. S. Navy The party was held at Villere's Lounge with many of the three honoree's friends and classmates from last year's graduating class of Bay High on hand. Delicious refreshments, sandwiches, cold drinks, potato chips and potato salad, satisfied hearty appetites Dancing was enjoyed throughout the evening. Enjoying the fun of the pre-Christmas season were Rita Morel, Eleanor Bufkin, Lauren Sonier, Otto Bourgeois, Alice Maurigi, Glenda Johnston, Charles Miller, Charlene Miller, Hurlon Fayard, Hiram Fayard, Barbara Ann Villere, Patricia Villere, David Garcia, Kenny Fayard, Richard Fayard, Gayle Develle, Geraldine Bourgeois, Marian Bourgeois, Joe Bourgeois, Alvin Bourgeis, Pete Noto, Pete Ladner Richard Noonan, Alan Noonan Marilyn Noonan, Larry Bennett Hayward Spiers, Elaine Bing and many others. Mesdames R. Noonan O. L. Villere and George Digby also enjoyed the festivities.

Dirk Brensike, son of Mrs. Ruth Dufour, worked hard during the summer vacation and saved his money for an enterprise that he had had in his mind for a long time—lots and lots of baby chicks When school opened this industrious young man had enough money to buy some chicks. Later when they began to grow a large chicken house was built where his "investment" had a chance to grow free and protected. At present Dirk has 63 thoroughbreds, white Leghorns. They are four months old and will be producing eggs bys pring. Dirk wants us all to know that eggs will be available Incidentally, Dirk informs us that he wants to sell four of his roosters. This lad is to be commended for this endeavor and it is certainly a pleasant hobby—watching his feathered friends grow and produce.

Mrs. Van Buskirk and her grandson, Dirk Brensike, went to Hattiesburg last week where they attended Jehovah Witness Assembly There were 897 members who were present at the gathering.

Good luck is extended to the two girls from Waveland, Patricia Bourgeois and Frances Brensike who are members of the basketball team at St. Joseph's Academy The team goes to Baton Rouge this weekend to play the St. Joseph Assembly Team. This culumn wishes the Bay team a winning score!

Mr. and Mrs. Montecino entertained Mr. Clifton X. Mauffray Jr., from New Orleans, last week Mr. Mauffray is the organist in St Joseph's Church in New Orleans

Mrs. Ruth Meilleur, Mrs. Ruth Ketchum and Miss Clara Lee Ketchum were among the guests at the "Get Together Club" last week. The gathering was at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morreale, on Saturday evening. A spaghetti dinner was served and Christmas gifts exchanged. About 30 guests attended.

* * *

Mrs. George Huth and children were recent guests of Mr and Mrs. Bob Torgerson of Waveland. The Huths have been living in California, but it appears that Jackson, Mississippi, will be their next residence. The Huths will be remembered by their many friends in Waveland and Bay St Louis.

Mr. and Mrs W. Mays, Mr. and Mrs. T. V. Lawlar, and Mrs. Dorothy Swilley from Pearl River accompanied Mrs. Van Buskirk when she returned to Waveland from Hattiesgurg last week. They enjoyed the day in Waveland and spent time with friends at the Pine Burr.

In Spanish-speaking lands, the Three Wise Men bring Christmas gifts. In our land, wise men give U. S. Savings Bonds—the gift that keeps on growing.

JEALOUS OF JESUS

—By EMILIE DELPH

This was the big day. Kathy's excitement came beaming through, showing up in everything she did and said. After all this was the most important thing in her whole life. Tonight was the Christmas play and she was to be Mary, the Mother of Baby Jesus.

Kathy had gotten up unusually early this Saturday morning. She had a lot to do and time was running short—and mother hadn't even finished her costume! As she came running downtsairs she heard her mother calling from the den. When she skipped in Mother was changing little Danny.

"Yes, Mother?" she said excitedly.

"Would you watch Danny for a minute? I'll be right back."

"Yes'am," she answered as she took her mother's place beside Danny's crib.

Kathy began playing with the tiny hands waving contentedly in the air. As his hand gripped her forefinger, her mind began to wander back in the past six months that Danny had been with them. Kathy hadn't yet gotten used to having a little brother around, she even resented him a little. After all, for almost nine whole years there was just mother, daddy, and she — now there was Danny. He just didn't seem to belong there. Kathy tried not [illegible] of [illegible] into her heart.

Just then mother came hurrying through the back door into the den:

"B-urrr, it's freezing out there I'll bet we have snow for Christmas. Kathy, come over here and fit your costume again so that I can finish it this morning.

Oh, I forget to tell you! Mrs Grey called and asked whether she could borrow Danny for tonight. It seems she can't find the right doll to play the part of the Child Jesus. Since you are going to be right there on the stage I told her it would be all right. Now I have the two most important stars in the play."

Kathy didn't say anything. She just smiled and kept on admiring the beautiful blue material she had picked out for her veil. It really didn't matter to her, at least, that's what she kept trying to tell herself. But way down deep it began to hurt. He was doing it again unintentionally, unknowingly but just like he had done so many times. This was her Christmas play and she was the star. Now, she was sharing her stardom and which was worse she was sharing it with him.

The day dragged by slowly, but as nighttime and playtime drew nearer, she forgot all about Danny and nervously concentrated on the play and her beautiful costume. Before she knew it she was on stage. All around were shepherds and angels, the choir was singing a soft and beautiful hymn in the background and before her lay the Baby Jesus, sleeping as if he were home in his own little bed. Looking down at him with a gentle, motherly look Kathy smile proudly at the thought of knowing and having a little brother, the baby who played Jesus. As she touched Danny's forehead a small gleaming tear found its way down the side of her nose and she said softly to him, "I'm sorry."

TURKEY TALK

The traditional dish for Christmas is turkey, and the supply is plentiful and not too expensive this year. You will probably find the larger sizes are the economy size however.

With a food freezer, or freezing compartment in your refrigerator, left-overs need present no problem. Or if you don't have the freezer storage available, why not avail yourself of the lower price per pound of a big turkey by dividing with a neighbor.

Your meat cutter will be glad to cut the turkey in half for you. Roasting a half turkey gives you a fully flavored and attractive product.

To be sure you have enough turkey for all the folks at your dinner table, allow one-half pound of ready-to-cool turkey for each serving. You can expect from 16 to 20 servings from 8 to 10 pounds ready-to-cook turkey.

You can tell when the turkey is done, by moving the drumstick up and down. If the leg joint gives readily or breaks, the turkey is done. Or press the fleshy part of the drumstick up and down. If the leg joint gives readily or breaks, the turkey is done.

Plan your schedule so that your turkey is out of the oven 20 or 30 minutes before you carve it, if possible. This gives the meat a chance to absorb juices and it will carve easier.

CHOCOLATE FIG CONFECTIONS

About 15 dried figs

½ pound sweet cooking chocolate

14 Marshmallows cut in pieces

½ cup chopped nuts (walnuts or pecans)

Cover the figs with boiling hot water for 10 minutes. Drain and dry between towels. With scissors, snip off the stems. Then cut the figs in half-pieces. Melt the chocolate in the top of the double boiler or on low heat. When melted remove from the heat.

Add the figs, marshmallows and the nuts. Stir together quickly. Drop by teaspoon onto waxed paper, foil or greased pan. Cool thoroughly before placing on serving plate or packing in gift box.

Don't be tempted to double this recipe; it's far better to make it twice. You have to work fast for a satisfactory product. You may substitute dates for the figs using about 25. If the dates are fairly moist, you may not need to soak them in boiling water.

PLANNING

This slack season is a good time to catch up on some sound farm planning.. Make some plans for the next year. Put them down in writing so that you can refer to them when needed.

With farm income in the state it's in, and with the cost of materials constantly advancing, it just stands to reason that a planned program has a lot better chance for success than does a haphazard, hit-or-miss farm program.

Check up and see what you have on the farm Then plan what to do with it See which land will produce the highest yields. Then put this land in the highest per acre income crop.

Figure how much you can afford to spend for fertilizer, then put the fertilizer where it will do the most good.

Plan your livestock program around better breeding, more careful management and sounder marketing.

Your county agent is ready to help with advice and the latest Experiment Station recommendations. Call on him to help you with your farm planning..

Get a farm record book and begin the first of the year keeping it up to date. You may be surprised at how much it will help you in making a success of your farm business.

FORESTRY

During this week and next would be a good time to kinda take an inventory of just what you have in the way of farm timber.

You'll probably be going hunting in the woods anyway, so just take a little extra time and see what is there. You may have much more than you realize.

The Extension forestry department says that an hour's work per acre per year in your farm timber land can double the value of that timber.

PERMANENT PASTURES

Last summer when you looked out and found you were short of permanent pasture, it was too late to do anything about it then. About all you could do was plant some temporary grazing crop.

It is a good time now to study your permanent pasture situation and do something about it before next summer. You have several choices about what to do: You can put more land in pastures, or sell some stock; or you can make use of fertilizer and planting to increase yield of the pastures.

Don't wait until next [illegible] to do something about it [illegible] be too late again then you will find yourself right back in the same predicament.

Planting is done during the dormant season—late fall to very early Spring. Cold, damp days are the best for setting out trees. They may be planted with dibble, mattoch or tree planter, and no special preparation of ground is necessary before planting.

Spacing recommended is six feet between rows. Sometimes the spacing six by eight is preferred. Either is satisfactory. Following these suggestions, one acre will take about one thousand trees. This is the amount that one man can set out in a day.

Trees should be planted on land now in cultivation but not suited for row crops, or pasture, in fields not in use, in open woods or in woods that need to be changed to different kind of trees. Some trees are suited only to certain sections of the state or on certain types of soils. For instance, longleaf and slash pine are best suited for the southern part of the state.

Seedlings should be planted the same day they are received. If this is not possible the roots should be kept well moistened. When it is necessary to keep the trees or several days, unpack seedlings heel in a shallow trench and cover with moist earth.

For protection, make fire lanes around area planted, and if well cared for in about 15 to 20 years the first crop should be ready to harvest.

Farmers Warned Of Danger of Respiratory Disorder

Farmers are warned of the danger of a serious and potentially fatal respiratory disorder which may result from entering a newly filled silo.

The disease, only recently identified, is called silo-filler's disease and results from breathing the gas fermenting silage.

Farmers have long known that it was dangerous to enter a newly filled silo, but few realize the full extent of the danger, according to H. L. Vaughan of the Industrial Hygiene Division, State Board of Health.

The newly identified disease is described as any bronchial or pulmonary condition produced by the inhalation of oxides of nitrogen derived from fresh silage. Because it resembles other lung conditions, such as broncho-pneumonia, the doctor must know the patient has been exposed to silage fumes before he can make his [illegible]

Vaughan warns farmers that the danger of exposure to nitrogen dioxide fumes may increase because of greater use of commercial chemicals containing nitrogen. These chemicals, says Vaughan, are likely to increase production of nitrogen dioxide in silage.

Prevention of the silo-filler's disease is simple. Allow no one to enter a silo for any purpose from the time filling begins until ten days after it is finished. Nitrogen dioxide fumes are produced during this period.

In addition, good ventilation about the base of the silo should be provided during the dangerous period, so that gases will be carried away. The area should be fenced to prevent children and animals from straying into it. A blower fan should always be run before entering silo.

[illegible] by the recent [illegible] J. P. Coleman [illegible] ing the document [illegible] stood almost [illegible] any of state's [illegible] late Martin Sennett [illegible] governor in 1934, [illegible] effort to [illegible] convention.

[illegible] OPPOSITION

With Cooper putting considerable administrative strength behind a constitutional convention proposal, the best he could do was get the measure past the Senate. It died later in the House.

Coleman so far has not indicated whether he is prepared to put the weight of the administration behind a constitutional convention, despite his frank admission that a new constitution is "badly needed."

Coleman's indication that any move to get a constitutional convention would hinge on whether the Legislature can settle the old reappointment issue first may have disarmed any attempt at a constitutional redraft during his term.

The touchy legislative apportionment question has always been bound up tightly with the proposition of calling a constitutional convention when the matter has reached the floor of the Legislature.

STAUNCH OPPOSITION

In addition to opening under the same constitution since 1890 Mississippi has had the same legslative apportionment despite radical shifts in population. The legislative appointment despite fused to launch any move towards reappointment because a new distribution of the legislative seats based on population would unseat many of the lawmakers, particularly those from Northeast Mississippi.

Recently, Rep. Upton Sisson of Harrison County, chief supporter of reappointment, suggested to Gov. Coleman that the issue be taken out of the convention call.

Sisson, who also strongly favors a constitutional convention, has drafted a bill which would leave the reapportionment issue out of the convention.

SISSON PROPOSAL

His bill would spell out in advance the reappointment of the Legislature and would bar the convention from making any changes.

The legislative appointment set out in his bill, Sisson said would award the nine floterial seats in the House to the nine most underrepresented counties and would add 16 seats to the Senate.

Under his proposal, Sisson says 18 counties which would lose floterial seats in the House would gain in Senate representation, and then only a half seat.

The Harrison county legislator expressed the belief that convention bill could be passed with his reappointment provision in it In the 1956 session, a proposed constitutional amendment which embodied the legislative reappointment formula devised by Sisson failed by two votes to beat a two-thirds majority in the Senate.

SIMPLE MAJORITY

In Mississippi a constitutional convention can be called by the Legislature without first being placed before the voters of the state.

While it takes a two-thirds majority of both houses to submit a constitutional amendment to the people, it requires only a simple majority to pass a bill calling a convention to completely rewrite the convention.

The fact that only a simple majority is needed to approve a constitutional convention call has been documented in a text on the state constitution written by William Ethridge, justice of the state supreme court.

Under Mississippi procedure it is not necessary for a constitutional draft to be ratified by the people. The 1890 constitution which was written in the bitter era which followed reconstruction, was never submitted to the people.

Sisson said that his proposal calls for submitting the constitutional to a vote of the people and if it is rejected, to be resubmitted, section by section, as amendments are considered.—New Orleans Times-Picayune.

[illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] it in [illegible] for the Christmas season. We use it in [illegible] the birth of Christ. It [illegible] to have been used in religious [illegible] even before the [illegible] by the peoples of [illegible] and the Mediterranean region.

The name Mistletoe comes from the Saxon word mistl-tan which means "different twig." This is the evidence we have that this plant, which is a hemi-parasite, or half parasite, was understood even in ancient times to be different from its host.

It was the ancient Greek botanist, Theophrastus, who in the year [illegible] B. C. noted first that this plant is a parasite. It has been featured in legends of the Greeks, Norse, Germanic and other European peoples. It has been vested with supernatural powers to do good and evil in these legends.

A myth by the herbalists of the early Christan era claims that it was a large forest tree and became dwarfted otu of shame because the wood was used for the Cross of Calvary. These herbalists who studied the Medical properties of plants, prescribed the use of Mistletoe as an antidote [illegible] and as a cure for [illegible] diseases. No [illegible] use of it is made in modern times.

CLASSIFICATION

The Mistletoe Family is known to botanists as Loranthaceae. It contains about 900 species of plants living mostly in the tropics and chiefly parasites to some degree, and woody in structure.

Mistletoe belongs to the flowering plants but flowers are inconspicious and somewhat rudimentary. They usually appear in summer. The plants are said to be dioecious, that is living in two houses. The staminate flowers or males, appear on one plant and the pistillate, or female, develop on another plant. This accounts for the fact that fruits are not formed on all plants, only the females. This can be noticed in one tree that has several plants attached. Pollenation is done by insects.

The fruits are small white berries about the size of youpon fruits. Their glossy white fruits against the yellowish green of the thick,, rounded leaves makes an ornament of rare beauty. The leaves are opposite and sometimes in whirls. The short, heavy stems are distinctly jointed and are rather brittle and can be taken with relative ease from the limbs or trunks on which they are grown.

There are two genera of mistletoe [illegible] in the United States. [illegible] type known scientifically as Arceuthobium, meaning "living on juniper" are found in Northwest. They live on evergreens such as pines, firs, etc. and are used in Christmas decorations. They are too small and some types are without broad leaves.

The other genera, known as Phoradendron, meaning "tree thief" because it is parasitic, is commonly called American Mistletoe and in great favor for Christmas decorations.

HABITS

There are varying degrees of parasitism in the Mistletoes. While our Christmas Mistletoe does some damage to host trees, apparently little is done on a commercial scale. Their broad leaves contain much chlorophyll which seems to be able to function [illegible] of small leaves or [illegible] trees.

Since they have green leaves they produce their own food and take only raw material as water and dissolved minerals from the host tree. This is why they are regarded as half parasites. They take little if any elaborated foods.

Mistletoe plants have no true roots but have a modified absortion system known as haustoria. These structures are able to penetrate both the bast and the sap wood. It is through the sapwood that they take the rising water and minerals from the host tree at the site of the parasite penetration.

There are about 30 species of Phorodendron in temperate North America. These species show def[illegible] for the [illegible] only one species of tree will be parasitized by mistletoe. It is not uncommon, for instance, in [illegible] regions where one species, as black gum, is the chief host.

DISTRIBUTION

Sometimes many trees are heavily infested. There must be some natural cause and effect relationship for this. It is generally regarded as evident that [illegible] a very sticky substance [illegible] take up much water. When the berries are ripe, birds eat them. In the process of eating, seeds may cling to the bill of the birds. They may be carried to other nearby trees and limbs where they are rubbed off onto a limb or trunk. Here they sprout and grow. Some may pass through the digestive tract also and get [illegible]

[illegible] nations versus Communism we do not mean Americans against Russia, but rather the Christian philosophy of democracy against atheistic communism.”

Lisa Sanchez, World History student blames France for the war in the Suez Canal Zone. She stated “France should not have been stirring up a spirit of aggressiveness in Israel.”

“I feel that Britain and France made a tragic mistake. Co-operation, especially Anglo-American cooperation, is regarded as the keystone of our entire defense system.” This is the opinion given by Judy Heck, a Junior American History Student when asked, “What is your attitude toward France and Britain?”

“What do you think the policy of the United States should be towards Russia?” Elaise Noto a Modern History student, gave as her answer to this question, “If Russia keeps overstepping herself I think we should get together in the United Nations and draw some kind of blockade to prevent her further moves to dominate smaller countries.”

A Senior American History student, Fannie Misuraca, thinks, “The United States should remain neutral, and carry on their business outside the United Nations.” On the same question Deanna Lenard answered, “I approve of the United Nations, but think the United States should try to stay out of the trouble.”

The key to the next moves in this crisis nobody knows. The biggest question hovering in the air now is our ultimate fear. “Will this lead to another World War?”

Field of vision—ability to see over a large area while looking straight ahead, so that game or hunters to the side will be detected.

[illegible] Standing Is Fifth Among 26 Fleets

The Mississippi Highway Patrol's final standing in the [illegible] annual National Fleet Safety Contest was fifth among 26 participating fleets.

According to the National Safety Council which conducts the analyses, the State Patrol's accident rate per 100,000 miles of vehicle travel from July 1, 1955 through June 30, 1956) was 0.37. The National accident rate per 100,000 miles of vehicle travel, including private, commercial and police carriers is 5.9. The state average is 6.9.

The almost phenomenal safe driving record of Mississippi Highway Patholmen is due largely to the department's emphasis on defensive driving techniques.

Commissioner of Public Safety Tom Scarborough commenting on the Patrol's outstanding record stated: "After investigating other people's accidents day after day, a traffic officer realizes that many good, safe drivers and motorists are killed through no particular fault of their own. He learns to apply this lesson to his own driving and drives defensively, keeping others from involving him in accidents."

The California Highway Patrol was first place winner in the contest.

Freshmen Leaders Take Over Offices

Freshmen choice of officers resulted in the election as president of Gaynell La Gasse, who up until last year attended St. Mary of the Angels in New Orleans.

Filling the office of vice-president is Patty Babin, a boarder from New Orleans. Judy Copponex, who was elected secretary, will keep the class records. This Freshie comes from St. John's in Gulfport. Mary Dudley Roger from Good Hope, Louisiana, will manage the class funds. Mary Dudley has been a boarder here at the Academy for four years.

TEACHERS ASSN. HOLDS FIRST MEETING OF 1956-57 YEAR

The Hancock County Teachers Association held its first meeting for the 1956-57 school term at Bay High School on December 10, 1956 at 7:30 p. m.

Mr. Oscar C. Breland, President called the meeting to order with Mr. Culbert Lee giving the invocation. Joe McCulloch, high school principal, welcomed everyone to Bay High and stressed the importance of the Municipal Teachers and the County-Wide Unit Teachers be more strongly united into one teachers organization.

Mr. E. E. Breland spoke and recognized Mr. Charlie Proffer hired architect for the new school Buildings before introducing Mr T. N. Naylor, Director of School Buildings and Transportation, from the State Dept. of Education.

Mr. Naylor expressed thanks for being able to be present at the meeting and stated that in 1953 all schools were abolished and in July of 1957 all counties would have to be reorganized or have their re-organization pending before the State Finance Commission. He gave his views on the location of centers in this county and stated that he felt it would be to the best interest of all that one school be located North of Kiln which would take care of children from Kiln, Dedeaux, Sellers and Leetown Schools. This view was in line with the final recommendation of the survey group who made the survey for Hancock County. Mr. Naylor stated that in 1951 there were 1409 one teacher schools and just last year there were 635 still operating. He also showed and explained some very interesting films of mostly the colored schools throughout the state.

Co. Supt. Breland asked for questions to be asked which he Mr. Naylor and Walter James Phillips answered.

The Attorney for the County School Board, Mr. Walter James Phillips, mentioned the possibility of the rapid increase in oil and gas severance tax which he indicated might come to the schools of the county in a short time.

Mr. S. J. Ingram spoke and stressed the importance of all teachers in the county being a member of the Mississippi Education Association and gave some of the advantages of having a strong State Organization.

An election of officers was held and the following were selected to serve for the 1956-57 school year:

Mr. Delous Smith, Supt. of Dedeaux High School, President

Mr. George W. Bilbo, Supt. of Sellers High School, Vice-President.

Miss Cherrie Green, Secretary-Treasurer.

The following delegates were selected to represent Hancock County in the MEA House of Delegates to be held March 13th through 16th. in Jackson.

Mr. W. M. Simmons, Kiln, Miss.

Miss Alma Parker, Logtown Miss.

Mr. Joe McCullouch, Bay St Louis, Miss.

Alternates selected for delegates were:

Mrs. Jeanne D. Williams, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Mrs. Robert. Ladner, Lakeshore Miss.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Juanita Erwin and other faculty members of Bay High School to 27 City School Teachers and 35 County School Teachers and guests, which totaled 68.

Mother of Former Resident Dies in Gulfport

ELEVEN YEAR OLD YOUTH INJURED BY LIVE FIRECRACKER

11 year old Johnny Dantagnan and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Dantagnan will not enjoy the Happy Christmas the family have been anticipating due to a firecracker which exploded Sunday afternoon in the face of the lad, and which may cost him the sight of one eye.

This year Johnny and his brother, foster sons of the Dantagnans will be spending their first Christmas in their new home in Bay St. Louis with their new parents.

The family have been looking forward to the happy holiday season, with plans for the best Christmas ever for the boys.

Sunday afternoon the two brothers went to the beach to play Older boys had been shooting giant firecrackers and like all youngsters the Dantagnan lads thought the pops and bangs great fun and excitement.

According to Mrs. Dantagnan Johnny reached for a box that appeared to have an unlighted firecracker in it, and as he picked it up in his hand to look into the box, another cracker exploded in his face.

The child was rushed to the Eye-Ear and Throat Hospital in New Orleans. The injured eye was hemorrhaging so badly it was impossible for the doctors to determine the extent of the injury but Mrs. Dantagnan said they feared it would be quite serious even to the possible loss of the eye.

The Merry Christmas with all the festive fun has been darkened by the tragic accident. Mrs. Dantagnan requested this reporter write the story with the belief that it may stop some other child from being injured by the dangerous but fascinating firecrackers which all children seem to love. If they are shot they should be handled by adults, and children should be warned not to pick up any type of firecracker there is always the possibility that the fuse may have been lighted and that it will explode and cause injury to an unsuspecting victim.

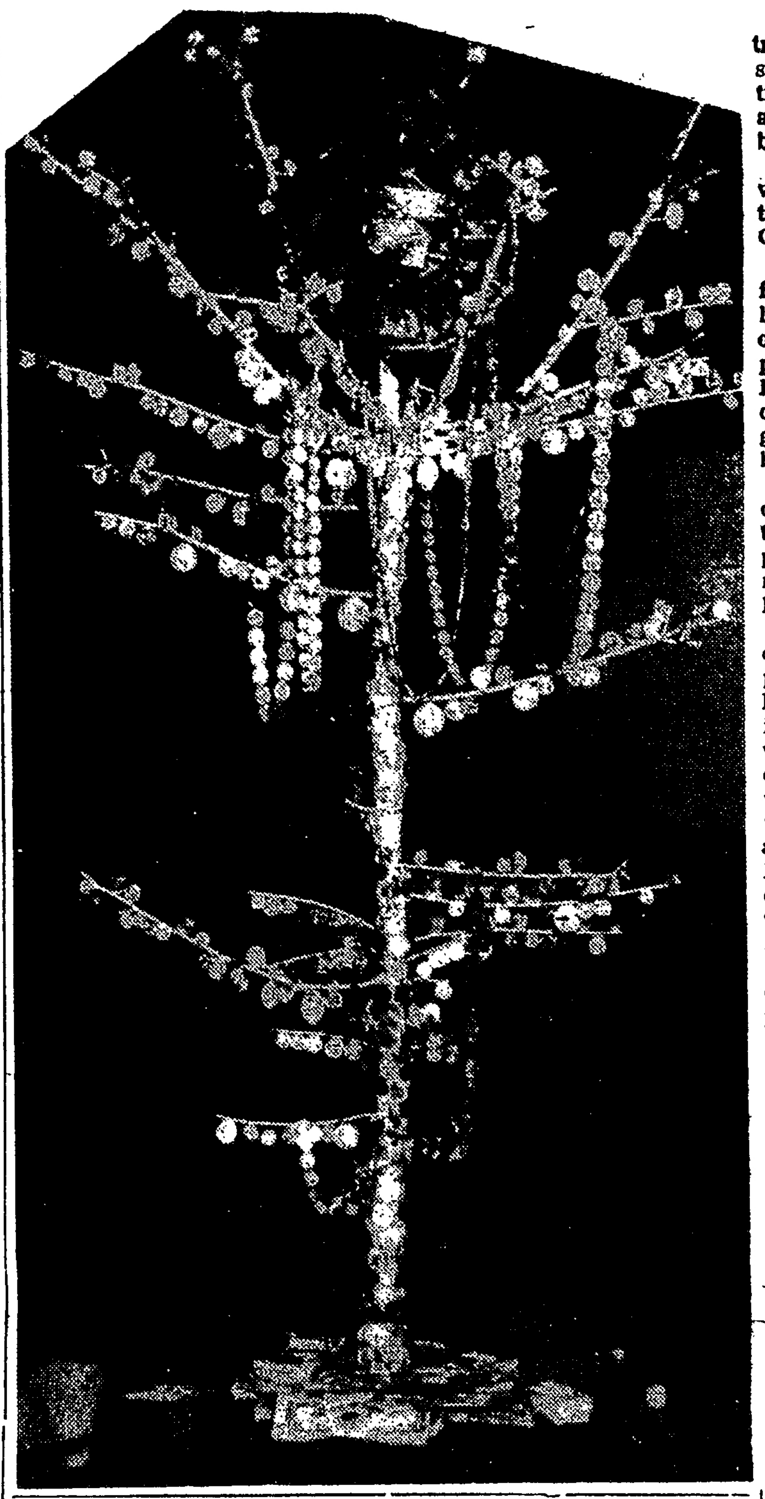
Money Tree Will Benefit March Of Dimes Program



The money tree—oh the money tree—words from a very gay lilting song but words which have come true in Bay St. Louis, where an actual money tree is in full bloom.

This astonishing tree may be viewed by any person who enters the Merchants Bank and Trust Co.

Approximately six feet tall from its roots, trunk, limbs and leaves, it is composed entirely of coins, ranging in value from pennies to silver dollars. The Blossom is made up of $1.00 bills one of the Old Time yellow back gold certificates as center of the bloom.

And best of all the money tree of the Merchants Bank is going to mean money for some lucky person. It is also going to mean money for the March of Dimes Fund Drive.

A guessing contest will be staged by the Bank. The tree on display is made of a sum of money known only to Joe Burrow, Cashier of the bank. Any person wishing to guess the amount of coins used in making the tree will find slips which will be at the bank, with names, addresses and the amount of money guessed. Five cents (5c) must accompany each guess. This money will be turned over to the March of Dimes at the close of their fund raising campaign. Persons may enter as many guesses as desired provided the 5c goes with each guess.

A prize of $50.00 in cash will be given by the bank if the exact amount of money is guessed. If the exact amount is not guessed then the person with the nearest amount will receive $25.00 in cash. The fifty dollars will be given by the bank to the March of Dimes if correct amount is not guessed.

The tree and guessing contest should really prove a boon to the March of Dimes Campaign, and a source of entertainment and charitable giving to those who participate.

The winner will really have reason to sing "The Money Tree —the Money Tree—it bloomed in Bay St. Louis for me."

Local Man Flies In "Toughest Mission"

A Bay St. Louis man is one of three figures in a story in the January issue of Real Magazine.

Written by author Ed Hymoff, the article titled "I Flew the World's Toughest Mission." Tells the story of three officers in a simulated combat mission in a SAC bomber

The three are Captain Tilton L. Wilcox, Bombardier Navigator Major Basil Pafe Aircraft Commander and Captain Manuel R. Richardson, pilot, engineer, part time navigator and gunner.

These men flew a seven hour stretch "Top Secret" Mission with the Strategic Air Command.

The story deals with their flight and the hazards they encountered.

Captain Richardson, formerly in the Navy Air Force during World War II, is the 33 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Richardson, Sr., of Bay St Louis, and a graduate of St. Stanislaus school.

The magazine article erroneously gives St. Louis, Mo., as his birth place and home.

The interesting story relates the flight and mission of these three men and states that it takes three top rated men to handle a B-47, the other two in the story are both West Point graduates Dick Richardson, Bay St. Louis third of the trio, received his schooling from Navy training in the days of the second world war.

PUT CHRIST BACK INTO CHRISTMAS

The reason for the celebration of Christmas is because of the birth of Christ.

"I know that," you will reply. But do you remember it? Do you remember it in the proper way?

It seems that the Modern Christmas is associated more closely with shopping, purchasing, and contemplating what might be found under the tree on the morning of December 25, rather than with a vital religious aspect and expectancy. The advent of Christ is all too vague in this present day. It is appalling that some little children are not even aware of or are made conscious of the true meaning of Christmas.

It seems that if each one of us determined to celebrate this Christmas with a certain amount of sincere prayer and meditation we could all do our share towards aiding this degenerating world.

The old custom of street carolers is sadly missed. How heartwarming it once was to have a group stop by a lighted window and sing, "O Little Town of Bethlehem" or "It Came Upon a Midnight Clear!" One felt the touch of Christ in Christmas and was a better man for it!

Christmas Holiday Driving To Make Increase Or Decrease In Death Toll

How Mississippi motorists drive this Christmas holiday may well spell the difference between an increase or reduction in the state's 1956 traffic death toll.

Commissioner of Public Safety Tom Scarborough on the eve of the start of the Christmas holiday period has issued an appeal for sane driving with the reminder that Mississippi is entering the Yuletide celebration with a slight reduction in '56 fatalities.

A sudden upsurge in traffic accidents over the holidays, however, could put Mississippi over 1955's near record traffic slaughter.

The 1955 toll was 548 killed. The '56 death rate as of December 12, 1956 was 506 persons dead; the '55 toll for the corresponding period was 515 dead a slight margin of decrease which could be easily upset.

On Christmas Day last year seven persons perished in traffic accidents during the 24 hour period. Eleven died during the four-day holiday. This slaughter should not be repeated.

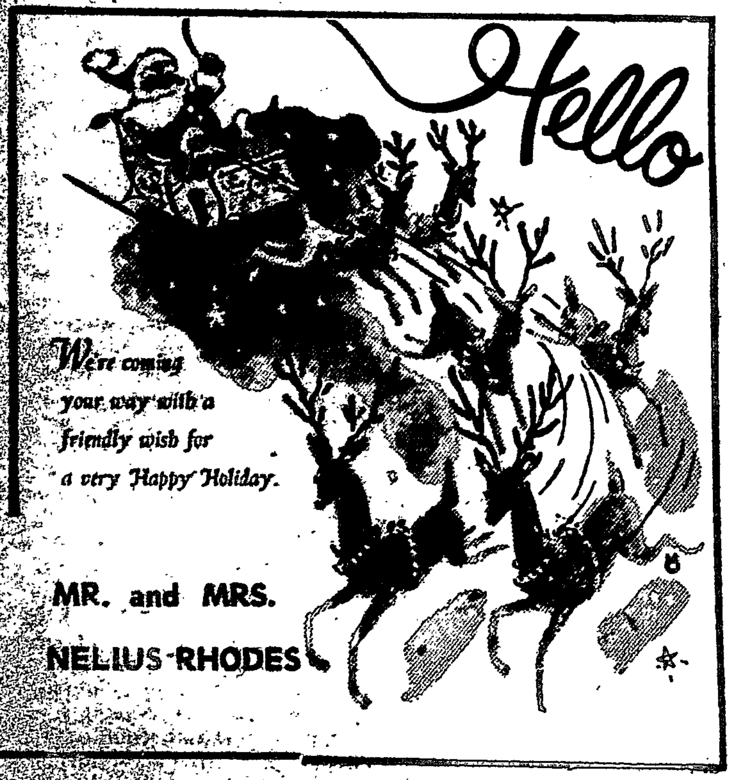
In addition to the seven killed last Christmas Day, 50 others were injured, some seriously, in 62 separate accidents. During the entire holiday 324 accidents were investigated. One hundred and twenty-seven persons were injured.

Christmas is annually one of the state's costliest holidays in accidental deaths. The Public Commissioner has promised that the Highway Patrol's every facility will be used in curbing the Yuletide slaughter this year. The patrol's selectilve enforcement program, "Operation Attack," will be continued through December. Speeding and moving hazardous violations will be closely watcher. Radar will be used extensively.

Commissioner Scarborough, states that the Patrol does not wish to "dampen" any motorist's Christmas pilgrimage home, but he stresses that traffic laws will be rigidly enforced.

Drive safely.

On a 1,000 mile cruise made by the USS NAUTILUS she maintoined an average speed of about 16 knots—the first time any submerged submarine maintained such a high speed for more than a couple of hours.



We're coming your way with a friendly wish for a very Happy Holiday.

MR. and MRS.
NELIUS RHODES

O come, all ye faithful
May your Christmas be as joyful, as full of peace and beauty, and as rich in meaning as a Christmas carol.

To our many friends we wish to extend a Happy Christmas and a prosperous New Year.

[illegible] Play By Pupils Of Elementary School Of S. J. A.

The Christmas play presented Tuesday night by the pupils of the Elementary school of St. Joseph's Academy was spectacular in every respect.

Under the direction of Sister [illegible], the children presented portions of the Nutcracker Suite.

Narrated by Dianne Griffon, seventh grade pupil, the presentation opened with the choral group gowned in white with red satin trim and silver star crowns in their hair, singing some of the exquisite refrains from the famous Tchaikovsky score. The group was seated below stage level in front of the footlights. At the completion of the singing, the narrator unfolded the story as the curtain parted on a scene with a wondrous Christmas tree and a little girl receiving gifts from her friends, the most exciting of which is a magic nutcracker. As the magic story unfolds wooden soldiers, mouse king, sleeping dolls, peppermint sticks, etc., all coming to life singing and dancing, the finale an assault by the little girl on the Mouse King and the transformation of the Nutcracker into Prince Charming.

The curtain came down on the first act and a change of scenery took place, with the exterior of the palace of the prince, the setting for the second act. Here the prince leads the little girl who is now a dazzling princess.

Flowers, Japanese dancers, and all subjects of the realm perform for the Prince and his Princess.

Costuming, lighting, scenery were all worthy of a professional performance, and the hundreds of persons who crowded the gym of the convent were all high in praise of the production.

A second playlet followed, directed by Sister Leonard with another group of singers setting the mood with music.

This play portrayed a group of angels who descend on earth to visit a birthday party for the seven year old Jesus, given by his mother Mary and father Joseph. One little angel cannot be found as the group plans to leave their heavenly home sc they are force to leave without him. After their departure the little angel comes running in, and seeks to find earth and Nazareth alone. In his travels he comes across several unfortunate humans, all of whom he helps. He finally falls asleep, and during his sleep the scene changes and the home of Jesus, with his parents and friends celebrating his seventh birthday is shown. The table is set with glasses for the children and a beautiful birthday cake with a large candle in the center. Above floor level the band of angels are perched viewing the party. Jesus lights the candle on his cake, Mother Mary gives the children food and drink, and birthday greetings are sung by all. The children depart, the curtain closes; Jesus walks onto the front stage, he is followded by his mother and father, there is short dialogue, then Jesus is left alone on stage with the little sleeping angel. He awakens the angel who is happy to have the one he sought, and they exit together. The curtain parts and the scene has again shifted. A little girl has fallen asleep in a chair reading a Christmas story. She is awakened by her mother, and of course the play which preceded is the dream of the little girl.

In the Nutcracker Suite, the girl was played by Diahne Taylor, and the Prince by Laurie Kiefer and Nutcracker, Sanlra Seuzeneau.

A lovely solo dance was performed by Felice Camors. In the second play, the little angel was done by Jo Mary Artigues, Jesus portrayed by Mary Margaret Lafontaine; Mary by Vicki Veglia; Joseph by Norman Lamb and the sleeping girl by Vicky Jacobi.

Areas that have good growth on them, but are boggy, should be protected from grazing until the ground dries out.

Sod seeded areas that do not have five to six inches of growth should not be grazed until enough growth gets there.

Too many farmers turn stock onto seeded areas as soon as an inch or two growth shows up. This is a mistake. It will never get any growth and not get established. Farmers are likely to blame the condition on sod seeding, when actually the fault lies in management.

PROTECT GARDEN EQUIPMENT

It will pay you to clean and store garden tools before really rough weather gets here. If you clean and store them, they'll be ready for use next spring when you need them.

Tools and graden supplies are often ruined by rust or freezing weather because they are forgotten in the fall. Garden sprayers can easily rust out unless they are thoroughly rinsed out and stored in a dry place. Rinse with water or a mild ammonia solution, then hang open and upside down.

A neglected garden hose may freeze and spring a leak unless properly cared for.

Clean the mud and rust off all tools, then grease lightly and store in a dry place.

Mississippi Power Company

Production Department

For Outstanding Achievement in Accident Prevention

Employees worked from Nov. 16, 1948 to June 7, 1956

a Total of 1,033,584 Consecutive Man Hours

without a disabling Injury Accident

Secretary

Pres[illegible]ent

The Edison Electric Institute has awarded the Production Department of Mississippi Power Company the Safety Merit Award for outstanding achievement in accident prevention. The award is presented by the Institute to electric utility companies or departments whose employees complete one million man hours without a disabling injury.

The Mississippi Power Company Production Department comprised of the Company's two generating plants, Plant Eaton and Plant Sweatt, worked continuously from November 16 1948, to June 7, 1956 without a lost time accident. During this seven and one-half year period the employees of these two plants worked 1,033,184 man hours.

In discussing the award, an official of the Company stated "We are very proud of this award from the Edison Electric Institute It is recognition of the safety consciousness of our employees We think that it is a particularly fine achievement because it means that for more than one million man hours none of the employees at these two plants have suffered as the result of an accident. The elimination of human suffering is the true goal of any accident prevention program. That has always been our goal."

"We have a very active safety program in our company and safety is of prime consideration, but we feel that the credit for this outstanding record of achievement belongs to these employees. They have certainly earned this award."

In 1952 this same award was presented to the entire company. At that time the employees of the Company had worked continuously from October 23, 1951 to July 24, 1952 without a disabling injury.

The eighth Navy ship bearing the name RANGER, has been launched, incorporating the latest improvements in aircraft design such as the new mirror-landing system which enables pilots to land without need for a Landing Signal Officer. The Navy's first RANGER, under the command of John Paul Jones, received the first salute ever to be rendered the American flag by a foreign power.

[illegible] Thanks Bonds Volunteers

At the 15th Anniversary conference of the U. S. Treasury's Savings Bonds Division held in Washington November 28 and 29 Deputy Assistant to the President, Howard Pyle, read a message from President Eisenhower which stated as follows:

"I am pleased to say 'thank you' on behalf of the Government to you volunteer workers and staff people from every State in the Union, who have done so much for your country in promoting the sale of United States Savings Bonds.

"More than 40 million people today own more than $50 billion in Savings Bonds. This is not a great reservoir of savings for the individuals concerned but is a very stabilizing backlog of purchasing power in the Nation's economy. It is an accomplishment of which our people can be very proud.

"Savings Bonds are important for still another reason. They stimulate thrift or the saving of money. This aids in solving the problem which we in America are concerned about today— [illegible] Bonds people for the great work you are doing in helping instill the virtues of thrift and saving which mean so much to keeping our great economy safe and sound."

Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey told the group "yours is one of the most important jobs in our Government."

"No other government was ever so fortunate in having the very best brains contribute the time and effort you have devoted to the Savings Bonds program," the Secretary declared. "I don't need to tell you that your contributions are appreciated by all of us, from the President on down

"The great backlog of more [illegible] over back [illegible] all of this amount is owned by individuals is in itself a mighty balancing device. Each and every one of you has a right to be proud of your part in this endeavor."

Attending from Mississippi were Rex I. Brown, State Chairman and R. P. Parish, Jr., State ABA Chairman, both volunteers; and Newell N. McAlpin and Knox McMullan from the state staff.

[illegible] Of American Servicemen Eligible For Medical Care

Two million dependents of uniformed American servicemen all over the world became eligible for civilian medical care at government expense on December 7th, when the Dependents' Medical Care Act went into effect.

Wives, dependent husbands and children of active duty members of the Army, Navy, Air Force, Marine Corps, Coast Guard and dependents of Commissioned members of the Public Health Servcie and Coast Geodetic Survey are now eligible for civilian medical care.

As of this writing, 42 states plus Hawaii, Alaska and Puerto Rica have signed contracts with the government under which civilian physicians will be able to attend military dependents.

Headquarters Third Army this week announced the names of the firms in each Third Army Area state which will process bills coming to the government from hospitals and physicians in the area.

Hospitals in Mississippi will send their bills to the Mississippi Hospital and Medical Service Jackson, Mississippi.

Doctors in Mississippi will submit their bills for services rendered under the Dependents Medical Care Act to the Mississippi State Medical Association, Jackson Mississippi.

The Act, which the military has described as one of its greatest career incentive boosts in many years, was signed into law by President Eisehower on June 7th 1956, to become effective December 7th.

There are many details about the program which will resolve themselves in a matter of time but here are the major features of the Act.

Only dependent wives, husbands and children of active duty military personnel can receive civilian medical care under the program.

Other dependents— dependent parents of persons who died while on actice duty, etc.—will continue to be treated at service hospitals, where facilities are available.

In most instances a military dependent will have to pay to a hospital $25 for each admission. The government will pick up the tab for the rest of the bill.

Except for injuries where emergency treatment is necessary outpatient care is NOT authorized at civilian hospitals.

Dental care can be provided only for facial injuries or as a necessary part of hospital treatments.

At the present, there exists for eligible dependents a free choice of either civilian or military care, although there may be exceptions later on.

However, the services will encourage dependents to continue using available military hospital facilites; the new program's basic aim is to aid those who do not have access to such facilities.

(To support this basic aim, Washington recently pointed out that about 40% of the eligible military dependents have found medical treatment completely unavailable in recent years, either because there were no military hospitals in their area or because the ones that were there were too crowded to accept them.)

One of the most important aspects of the program is expected to be the fact that complete maternity care for military dependents is now authorized from civilian sources.

By "complete", the Dependents' Medical Care Act means "prenatal care, delivery and postnatal care," including newborn infant care at government expense for 60 days after delivery.

If a serviceman dies while his dependent is hospitalized, the government care continues. A wife in a civilian hospital at such t time may be transferred to a military hospital.

The government provides eligible dependents semi-private rooms while they are confined to civilian hospitals. If a patient desires a private room, he must pay the "difference between private room charges and weighted average cost of semi-private room charges." If the physician orders the private room, the dependent pays only 25% of the additional cost If a patient de- and above normal nursing care the above normal nursing care, the patient must pay the first $100 and $25 of all charges [illegible]. Diagnostic tests and [illegible] including lab and X-ray [illegible] are authorized at civilian facilities in connection with hospitalization.

Dependents are not authorized civilian medical treatment at government expense for normal chronic conditions, mental diseases, "elective, treatment, domiciliary care, most outpatient care ambulance service and home calls.

Military dependents do not have to get permission from a military hospital authority to get authorized civilian medical care. They need only to present their proper identification cards (Privilege Identification Card (DA Form 899) or Dependent's Identification Card (DD Form 720) to a civilian hospital or doctor to get proper care.

HOWEVER, Department of Defense has repeatedly stressed this point for military dependents to remember. "dependents selecting civilian physicians should insure that the physician has agreed to and will abide by the fee schedule for his ared"; otherwise the dependent must pay the entire bill.

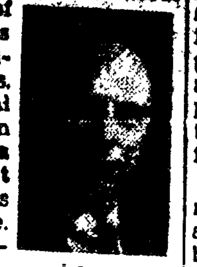
Detailed information on the Act is available to all military dependents at any active military installation.

Dependents not residing with their sponsors should personally contact the nearest Armed Forces installation. For those dependents living in Mississippi, the Mississippi Military District will make necessary identification cards available.

An Answer To Automation

By John Q. Adams, President, [illegible] Co.

AUTOMATION is a word that is a source of fear and uneasiness to many of us. We read in Newsweek, "Ford's automatic engine plant turns out twice as many engines as an old-style plant, with one-tenth the manpower." All over the country it's the same story—machines and automatic devices are gradually replacing man.



Adams

There is nothing new about man's fear of machines; it has existed throughout the ages. The Industrial Revolution in England had a tragic impact upon the lives of many people. Ruthlessly, workers were displaced by the first power-driven machines. They were turned into the streets to wander about homeless and hungry. In fear and desperation the workers struck back at the selfish owners of the machines.

AND NOW automation, the "industrial revolution" of our day, is bringing in its wake the threat of social and economic problems—unemployment—elimination of long acquired skills, —disruption of family life of the worker by the abandonment of inefficient plants.

The peaceful solution to our revolution calls for unselfish cooperation between workers and owners, and the courageous application of sound Christian social principles. In facing up to the industrial issues of our day we must always take account of the fundamental dignity of the individual—a person who has in the depth of his being an image of his God.

TECHNOLOGICAL ADVANCES are to be welcomed if they have a constructive influence on the individual and upon those God-given institutions of marriage and the family, and private property — institutions which tend of their very nature to form him as a person.

To the spectre of unemployment we must explore the possibilities of annual wages, stabilized employment, and the retaining of displaced workers.

TO THE RESCUE of the family, caught in the unrealistic wage rates fixed for single and married workers alike, we must propose continuous exploration of the family allowance idea.

Deep consideration must be given to the human problems involved before a factory is abandoned. Regard must be had for lost wages, moving expenses, and for possible losses in selling homes or cancelling leases.

NEVER IN OUR TIMES, has the Christian mind been called upon to exercise its judgment with justice and charity in a more challenging situation.

† [illegible] Feature Service, Washington 17, D. C.

When television-viewing a popular holiday activity, especally for seasonal spectaculars and Bowl games, don't sit motionless before the glowing tube for long spells. Be sure there is a dim light in the room to counteract the glare of the TV set. Don't try to read and watch TV, too.

Though parties and family get-togethers are an integral part of the holidays, don't overdo a good thing and ruin it all. Where possible, space out such events; leave time open for unexpect- visits from friends. Lack of the proper amount of sleep is a prime cause of tired eyes and accompanying distresses.

Remember to maintain an over all correct diet, an item which eventually affects your eys almost as much as your stomach.

Be moderate in other habits too, are you're inviting eye irritation and discomfort.

Also, as the Old Year wanes, remember that eye specialists should examine your eyes at least once a year. If you've neglected that duty thus far, the post-holiday period and start of the New Year is a good time to get in step.

The traditional Navy courtesy of ':piping" important visitors over the side of the ship was inherited from the British Navy when commanders visited one another at sea. Frequently, the weather would be too rough to use gang way, so the visiting officer would be hoisted up the ship's side in a net or a basket The Officer of the deck would summon several members of the crew to assist the visitor in making a safe landing If the Officer was young, he would be able and agile enough to get along wth only two helpers. But if the visitor was older, he would be assisted by four to eight helpers, according to rank (and, no doubt, weight.)

[illegible] that Catholics [illegible] non-Catholics are head-[illegible] ... that they believe [illegible] marriages are invalid. [illegible] think Catholics believe the Pope is God ... that he can do no wrong ... that they owe him civil allegiance and that he should have the political power to rule America. It is said that Catholics want religious freedom only for themselves ... that they oppose public schools and separation of Church and State as evils which should be destroyed.

The claim is made that Catholics pay the priest for forgiveness of their sins ... that they must buy their departed relatives and friends out of Purgatory ... that they adore statues ... are forbidden to read the Bible ... use medals, candles and holy water as sure-fire protection against the loss of a job, lightning or being hit by an automobile.

But what is worse, some say, Catholics corrupt the true teachings of Jesus Christ with the addition of pagan superstitions and practices that are nothing less than the inventions of the devil.

If all these things—or any of them—were true, it would be a pity. For at least one out of every six Americans is a Catholic—and it would be a national tragedy if one-sixth of all Americans entertained such erroneous ideas.

The Knights of Columbus is an organization of more than 920,000 Catholic men of reason and intelligence. In our ranks will be found statesmen, scientists, historians, physicians, movie stars, lawyers, educators and others representing every cross-section of American life. And for each and all of them loyalty to the Catholic Faith is the act of a reasonable man.

We are deeply interested in the welfare of our Church and our Country. And we believe the interests of both will be served best when fair-minded people know the Catholic Church as it is—not as it is sometimes mistaken to be.

If you have heard and believed any of these false claims, and want the truth, we will gladly send you a free booklet which explains many aspects of Catholic belief and practice. It will come to you in a plain wrapper—and nobody will call on you. Write for Pamphlet No. KC-1.

VITAL KEY TO GIFT-BUYING RUSH

There's at least one vital key to riding the tide of a hectic gift-buying and holiday rush and still being able to smile.

That key: Don't abuse two of your greatest gifts, your eyes.

For the eyes, which control some 80 per cent of your actions and use up to 25 per cent of your body's energy, the "holidays" may be anything but that.

In a whirl of crowd-bucking, tree-trimming, traveling, television-viewing and other activities of the season, don't let tired eyes spoil holiday fun.

According to the Murine Company of Chicago, following a few basic rules will help make your holidays—and the days following it—happy ones.

The rules include:

When commuting on buses or trains, don't spend every minute reading—and certainly not fine print. Reading while vehicles are in motion adds another burden of fatigue to the eyes.

Before starting on a long auto trip home for Christmas, be sure you're well rested. Stop occasionally to refresh yourself and rest your eyes, especially if you're the driver. If it's snowy, remember that sunglasses help out daytime glare—but don't use them after dark for driving.

Pepsters Enliven Varsity Hoopsters With Spirited Enthusiasm, Loyal Support

As the basketball season progressed so did the need for grandstand cheering and S. J. A. organized a vivacious and "eloquent" pepsquad.

These lively Gold Jay rooters, decked in white skirts, blouses and gloves with red, yellow and black streamers and snappy red weskits (thanks to the skillful stitching of Srs. STANISLAUS CHALKS UP FOURTH WIN

Dropping in basket after basket, the undefeated St. Stanislaus Rockachaws chalked up their 4th win of the season by stopping Holy Name of Mary of Algiers 72-30 in a spectacular cage contest at SSC gym Friday night December 14 at 8 o'clock.

Stanislaus started off with a bang, scoring 25 points in the first quarter, led by Birch Wilbert, the Rocks racked up another 11 points and were leading 36-11 at the half.

The Rocks ran circles around their opponents in the second half by sinking one goal after another. When the bell sounded ending the third quarter SSC was ahead by a score of 53-20. Before the final gun sounded, they succeeded in scoring 19 points while the Blue Knights sank 10 The final gun sounded, and the Rocks stood on top 72-30. High scorer for SSC was Birch Wilbert with 16 tallies.

In a rematch held Monday night the Rocks again emerged victorious. Coach Smith and the team followed by a large backing from the school, journeyed to Skully gym in Algiers for a rematch with the Blue Knights.

In order to keep the score as low as possible, Holy Name would freeze the ball every time they got their hands on the ball. But the Rocks never quit fighting Every time they found an opportunity, they took it, and scored at every chance they got. The presence of members of the Rockachaw band seemed to fire the boys on to greater achievements The final gun sounded with Stanislaus ahead 43-28.

Still undefeated, the Rocks will play host to Holy Cross tomorrow night in the SSC gym at 8 o'clock. The Holy Cross Tigers are contenders for the Louisiana crown and this contest should be one of the finest of the season Starting lineup for the Rocks will be: Timmy Scaffer and Billy Rhodes at guard; Birch Wilbert and Jerry Rigby at forward and John Giblaint at center.

The Navy has a new apparatus for keeping track of such "wicked ladies" as CONNIE, DIANE, HAEL and other hurricanes who have been raising hob on the East Coast in recent years. It is a SKYHOOK plastic balloon dubbed the Hurricoon which is equipped with a camera. From an altitude of about 80,000 feet it will make a continuing picture story of the hurricane.

Developed by the U. S. Navy a new high speed rocket named the ASP (Atmosphere Sounding Projectile) will be used to study cosmic ray emanations and to gather weather information.

The Navy and Maritime Administration are conducting experments to ncrease speed of Navy ships, particularly in heavy seas. Many new scientific instruments have been designed to assist in this project such as "sea Meters" which measure the height and length of waves with a hydrostatic tubes

Due to the rain last week in the upper part of the county the fresh water streams became dirty and naturally the fishing wasn't much over the weekend. A few fish were caught however according to reports from Nicola's Camp up Jordan River.

The only fish we saw were caught by Roy Keel and partner who had a few speckles caught by trolling.

Joe Kern, August Rauxet, Don Ciasto and Chris Hoefeld left Wednesday in three boats to spend a couple of days out in the marsh country.

Some specks have been caught this week on the Railroad bridge. Theo Tudury caught a few Sunday. Theo said they weren't striking so good.

Dave Ladner, bridge tender on the Highway bridge reports some fish are being caught from the bridge. Not like it used to be says Dave!

Son Taconi, recently retired from the U. S. Postal Service has been spending most of his time at his fishing wharf on the Beach. Son likes fishing himself as well as oystering. He's a good fellow to know if you want to go fishing.

* * *

Good news comes that old fishing partner Eddie Heath is home recuperating after his recent operation. Hurry and get well Eddie, the fish are missing you.

* * *

Sorry to hear of the recent death of Joe Taconi a good fisherman, oysterer and soft crabbsr and a true friend.

* * *

James Fillingame of Gulfport has a camp up Bayou La Croix where he and his friends enjoy some pleasant weekends, fishing, hunting and shooting the bull!

* * *

Haven't heard much from our friend, Pete Porter—must be hibernating at his camp on Rotten Bayou!

* * *

Kantcha Ketchum is looking forward to spending next week in N. O. visiting with the family. Of course there will be some fishing, golfing and bowling with the boys thrown in. Thanks to the boss!

* * *

Well Al Cox finally made it—fishing up the river, Luck none, but a good outing said Al.

John Damborino says it has been tough going for the past two weeks, but for the next four days holiday before Christmas all he wants to do is sleep, eat, rest and watch the TV. He and Millard might do a little fishing.

Kantcha Ketchum says,

A MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR!
To you all.

Ladies of the West Coast Deanery of the National Council of Catholic Women held their quarterly meeting in Pass Christian, Wednesday, December 12th with Rev. Father Hugh Taylor, former assistant at Our Lady of the Gulf Church; Father J. Pillar, O. M. I of Pine Hills guest speakers. 38 members representing Gulfport, Mississippi City, Pass Christian, Long Beach and Bay St Louis in attendance. Mrs. Lucille Weeks, president, presiding.

The meeting was opened with a prayer by Father Pillar, who then gave an interesting discourse on our youth of today. Emphasizing their lack of regard and respect for authority, whether it be to their parents, teachers officers of the law or those of the Religious. By such disrespect and ridicule, these young people are offending God by disobeying Him through disregard for authority Father stated.

Mrs. Alden Mauffray quoted from Mr. Edgar Hoover's message at the N. C. C. W. Convention, held in Chicago, recently. Mr Hoover, in reference to the delinquency stated—everyone has a responsibility to God and our Country and this should be instilled in our young people at the tender age of childhood.

Minutes were read and the treasurer's report given. It was announced that St. Joseph Academy Parents Club and the Knights of Columbus Auxiliary are now affiliates of the N. C C. W.

Plans were completed for the Christmas Paraty to be given the patients of the Gulfport V. A Hospital, sponsored by the ladies of the West Coast Deanery Saturday, December 15th. Mrs Len Devron, director of the N. C C. S. extended a cordial invitation from Major Hillar and Mr. Freedland of the V. A. Center. Mrs Devron said approximately 900 patients would be present.

Mrs. Weeks gave a brief comprehensive report of the convention held in Jackson, Miss. recently.

Mrs. Brennan was named Deanery auditor; Mrs. Marion Beal, chairman of the Youth Group Mrs. Lucas Pucheu, chairman of the Civil Defense. The chair for the Catholic P. T. A. is still vacant.

Reports of the activities of the various organizations of each unit were given.

Father Hugh Taylor, who has recently returned from Guatemala, spoke on our Faith in that country. He spoke also on the [illegible]ary because of the [illegible] the Clergy, in the rural [illegible]

Dipping the flag in salute aboard ships goes way back in navy history. Originally, a merchantman on meeting a warship was supposed to shorten her sail to indicate that she was a peaceful vessel on an honest voyage. This often caused delay by slowing down the ship so the rule of only dipping the ensign was substituted.

Naval Aviation at sea was made over 34 years ago when a Naval Aviator first flew an airplane off the deck of an aircraft carrier.

ROCK 'N' ROLLERS AREN'T UP WITH JAZZ-AGE DANCE ADICTS

If the "rock-n'-rollers of today think they are hot they should get hep to the "Black Bottom" which was the craze back in the early 1920's, according to Sheree North, the co-star with Gordon MacRae, Dan Dailey and Ernest Borgnine in "The Best Things in Life Are Free" which will have its premiere on Tues., Dec. 25-26 at the A & G Theatre.

"It's the difference between tepid and torrid," Sheree explained after she finished the spectacular dance number, a feature of this Twentieth Century-Fox CinemaScope-DeLuxe color musical along with "The Birth of the Blues" ballet.

Sheree had three changes of costume—a speakeasy shimmy sheath, a street costume, and the "Black Bottom" outfit — for the dance in which she lost seven pounds and was prompted to tell all who want to lose weight that "there is no other exercise that does what dancing does for you. except swimming and you can't swim eight hours a day unless you're a fish."

For Sheree, "The Best Things in Life Are Free" turned out to be the best thing in her film career since she got the opportunity to show her dramatic ability as well as her terpsichorean excellence. The picture also brought about a reunion between Director Michael Curtiz and Sheree who has a warm spot in her heart for the director. Back in 1950 and 1952 when Sheree was struggling to support her mother and infant daughter, Curtiz hired her for an eaxtra part in 'The Force of Arms' and kept her on salary for three weeks He used her for publicity stills with William Holden and Frank Lovejoy.

"'That job meant the difference between the three of us eating and not eating," Sheree said, " and I was greatful and still am."

In 1952 Curtiz again selected Sheree for a gift role in "The Jazz Singer" and although she was nearly fired from the job because she fell asleep after a hard night of dancing at Charley Foy's night club in the Valley at $40 a week, it marked the upward turn in her career.

Until just a little more than a year ago, more than three fourths of the Antarctic had never been seen by human eyes Now Navy photographers have taken pictures of one-third of this unknown area. This frontier was penetrated by a handful of pilots and airmen in four aircraft who in one month explored more of the Antartic than all previous expeditions combined.
